Executive Summary:

With the given RSVP dataset we are able to understand the film industry's insights. In this, we are able to analyze the top Director, Actor, Actress, and then short out the list of high-rated movies, different languages. surprised to see the worldwide gross income for the movies. Released movie for the year of 2017,2018 and 2019 with this able analyze the different trend of data in month-wise. Compared with different countries with respect to the year for number movies produced. Obtaining the highest number of movies produced in the given years by combining both the movie and genres table can give more interesting insights. The RSVP data helps to understand the trend of movies based on the categories of ratings such as super hit movies, hit movies, one-time watched movies, and flopped movies we can understand the viewer's response for the film. Based on the knowledge I hope the RSVP would produce the films like Sci-fiction, thrillers in upcoming years